Dhela Zone – The Hidden Gem of Corbett

The Dhela Zone is one of the newest additions to Jim Corbett National Park, opened in 2014. Despite being relatively less explored, it has quickly gained popularity for its tranquil environment, fewer crowds, and excellent chances of spotting wildlife in peace. Known for its rich biodiversity, scenic trails, and raw wilderness, Dhela is a must-visit for those who want a quieter, more immersive jungle experience.

Why Visit the Dhela Zone?

- Less Crowded: Ideal for travelers seeking a serene safari experience.
 - Rich Wildlife: Home to tigers, elephants, leopards, sloth bears, wild boars, and multiple deer species.
 - Birdwatcher's Paradise: Known for owls, vultures, woodpeckers, minivets, and migratory species.
 - Scenic Beauty: Mixture of dense sal forests, open grasslands, and riverbeds.
 - High Surprise Element: Sightings are unpredictable, making every safari thrilling and unique.
